

thegriddle

by david millar
September 2, 2006

latinsquaresmash

Here are some more extremely mixed up 6x6 Latin Square puzzles. The objective is just like in a sudoku - fill each row and column and 6 square shape with each digit 1-6. Some of these puzzles have a 6 square set that isn't connected as a shape. There are no 'given' numbers, just obscure clues. For an explanation of the clues, read the PDF for one of the Latin Square Smash puzzles previously posted on the site.

...and now, the puzzles!

scramblegrid

As some of you fabulous fans of my site know, yesterday I moved to Grand Rapids, MI from Saginaw, MI so I could start college. Well, it turns out I've been feeling ill all day today. I'm not sure why, but unscramble the letters in the grids below to find out some of my ideas of why I might be sick.

TT	AH	EP		W	CI	IT	ET	RY

FM	AE	AC	DH	II	LN	AE
SV	NR	NO	MP	P	N	EG

C	IL	EN	AA	RS	AA	AN	CT	E
		P	S	T	T	N

AD	CD	HM	AO	IL	IL
G	EU	OR	OR	MN	NS	C
		Y		S			