

Twilight Akari

In Akari, lightbulbs must be placed into grid cells to illuminate all of the non-wall cells. Light shines in the four orthogonal directions but does not pass through walls. Light bulbs may not shine upon one another. If a number is present, the clue must be surrounded by that number of light bulbs on its orthogonal neighbor cells.

For Twilight Akari, you may choose to shade over a clue wall and ignore the number on it. If you do, no light bulb may shine on the clue.

Fill each petal (triangle) with a letter to spell the answers to the provided clues.

Each row has one or two clues, separated by slashes, whose answers must be entered left-to-right in the order provided.

Blooms, indicated by dark-outlined hexagons, are all six-letter answers which are grouped by color and listed in order from top to bottom and left to right. It is up to the solver to determine the petal containing the first letter, and whether the answer must be entered clockwise or counter-clockwise around the bloom.
